Petersen draws a Red Rat

Wiley Petersen, Team ASE cowboy, 25, Pocatello, ID, bulls: Red Rat, "If I remember correctly, he's spins hard and is honest with the way he bucks...just the kind I like," said Petersen. "There are others that you can get a lot more points on, but they're really hard to ride and don't always have the best trips. Red Rat should be a good one for the first round. I need to put some consecutive rides together; my pattern of riding just one at each event isn't getting the job done. It's not that I'm not trying; I've just been making little mistakes and those will getcha with the caliber of bulls that show up at these events. I just need to relax and keep chugging along and, hopefully, it will all come together."

Red Rat...has been to four BFTS events and was ridden twice for an average 89.9 points. He has a bull rating of 43.5 out of a possible 50 points.

Petersen on St. Louis... "St. Louis has been around a long time," said Petersen. "They always have great crowds and great bulls. The one I drew would be a good one to win on...now I just have to convince the other 44 guys to let me do it."

Henricks' Ready for St. Louis

Dan Henricks, Herculiner Truck Liner cowboy, 25, Woodward, OK, bull: Jeopardy, “That’s a good bull to draw,” said Henricks. “I believe Owen Washborn used to own him and I’ve seen him a few times. He’ll spin either way and a guy can get a lot points on him.”

Jeopardy...has been to 16 PBR events and was the runner up bucking bull of the year in 97-98. He has been ridden seven times with an average score of 88.5 points. He has a bull score of 43.2 out of a possible 50 points.

Henricks on St. Louis...“I wasn’t able to compete in St. Louis the last couple of years because of injuries, so I’m really glad to get a chance to go,” said Henricks. “I feel good and I’m really looking forward to it.”
